SCENE OF DESOLATION. FONTANET IS WIPED OUT

Many People of Fontenac Slept In Patched Houses.

REMAINDER UNDER TENTS

As Soon as Day Broke Searching of the Debris For the Victims of This Most Shocking and Heartrending Disaster Commenced.

Fontanet, Ind., Oct. 16.—Residents of this village of 1,000 people when they awoke Wednesday morning encountered a much different situation than they had been accustomed to in the past. Instead of a quiet country town and pleasant scenery to greet their eyes, desolation was at hand. Soldiers of the Indiana state militia were on hand and stood guard all through the night.

No one connected with the Dupont Powder company can ascribe any reason for the explosion. Several rumors are current. One of the most probable circulated was the machinery in the glazing mill became overheated from friction and had set fire to some loose paper. The glazing mill was one of the first to blow up. Other sections of the plant followed in rapid succession.

A number of people of this place were able, by patching up their houses, to pass a fairly comfortable night. The remainder were accommodated with sleeping room on cots placed in tents brought here by order of Governor Hanley. Systematic efforts are going forward, and within a short time it is thought most of the houses will be repaired in such manner as to permit reoccupancy of them by tenants and owners.

Officers of Company B, Indiana National Guard, brought here early Tuesday night report the night passed without disturbance of any kind. The soldiers were distributed so as to guard as much of the town as possible. The guardsmen were instructed to shoot at sight any attempt at looting, but no one was found in an act of this kind and the soldiers failed to get any opportunity for shooting.

It is understood the state authorities will immediately begin an investigation of the cause of the disaster. The injured passed a fairly comfortable night and no additional deaths up to noon Wednesday was reported.

Systematic efforts to search for victims among the debris in the powder mills commenced Wednesday morning. Men distributed so as to make a thorough search for further victims. A number of coffins were received from Terre Haute and the bodies of several of those recovered buried. The number of dead will probably never be known, and it will be several days before the exact amount of property loss can be figured out.

Yellow Jackets to Blame.

Paris, Tex., Oct. 16.—While J. N. Caviness, near Emberson, was hauling wood and loading the wagon the team got in a nest of yellow jackets and started to run away. In grabbing for the lines his right arm was caught between a wheel and a tree and was severely mangled.

Powder Explosions Cause Awful Results.

DEATH LIST IS LENGTHY.

Every Structure In the Town Utterly Destroyed, About Thirty-Five Souls Ushered Into Eternity and Some Six Hundred Injured.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 16.—As the result of an explosion in the Dupont powder mills at Fontanet, eighteen miles from here, about thirty-five persons lost their lives and some 600 were injured. Five of the dead passed away in the hospital here. The exact property loss and correct number of dead will not be known for several days.

Governor Hanley arrived at 7:05 o'clock Tuesday evening, and immediately took charge of the situation, and late at night proclaimed martial law. The governor ordered all places where intoxicating drinks of any kind are sold closed.

The town is practically wiped out. Not a building stands intact, and throughout Tuesday fires kindled the ruins cost the lives of the maimed pinned in the wreckage and added to the terrifying scenes of destruction.

Hospitals and homes in Terre Haute were thrown open for the care of the injured. Relief trains, carrying physicians and supplies were hurried to the scene, and the injured were brought to this city.

While hurrying to St. Anthony hospital the city ambulance was struck by a street car and wrecked. No one was injured, but it is feared the shock will be fatal to the explosion victims who were in the ambulance.

Citizens at once subscribed more than $1,000 to the relief fund, and the city council, in special session, appropriated $10,000 to be expended in relieving the suffering.

Assistant Superintendent Nash, who was seriously injured about the head and hips, is at a hospital. He said he knew nothing about the explosion until he was picked up on a nearby hill about 100 yards distant from the plant by helping hands, who tenderly carried him to the Big Four relief train and brought him to Terre Haute.

Mr. Nash said the loss of the plant would be more than $100,000. He stated that this was not the first explosion of the plant. In the nine years he has been in the plant seventeen persons had been killed. Trouble has been experienced in the past few days with the shaft in the glazing room. Several times the shaft has become overheated, and has caused the stopping of the machinery. There were 31,000 kegs of powder in the magazine in the department, according to Mr. Nash.

The mills went up with three distinct explosions, followed ninety minutes later by a fourth, even more serious than the others, when the magazine went up. Immediately following the explosion the wreckage took fire, and the inhabitants of the town who rushed to the rescue of the mill employees found themselves powerless to aid those burning in the ruins. They worked frantically, in vain, for from possible succeeding explosions, un mindful of their ruined homes. Dead and dying were picked up and collected. Eighteen bodies horribly burned and mangled were carried to a protected spot to await identification, while the badly injured, numbering upward of fifty, were put on a special train and brought here for hospital accommodations. Scarcely one of the 1,000 inhabitants of the town but carried blood on hands and face from his own wounds or wounds of those of people who had required aid. The mills were located one mile south of town.

When the heat from the burning mills exploded the giant powder magazine ninety minutes later, destroying the town by concussion, many of those engaged in relief work were badly injured and several killed. Superintendent Monahan of the plant was killed while sitting in his office, and his wife and sister-in-law were killed in their home, some distance away. That the death list is not greater is due to the fact that the people of the town had left their houses at the first explosion, and were not in them when the explosion of 40,000 kegs of powder in the magazine hurled their homes to pieces and scattered their household goods in heaps of debris.

Among the buildings totally destroyed were the Methodist and Christian churches, two public school buildings, the depot, all business blocks, including a large block just completed, a large warehouse and 600 homes. In many of them the fronts were blown away, while in others the roofs were hurled into space, the sides blown out and left in a confused mass of wreckage.

A Big Four railroad freight train on the switch leading to the mills was partially destroyed and the wreckage caught fire. Engineer Charles Wells was badly burned and received a fracture of the right leg.

A four-room school building was torn to pieces at Fontanet, and not one of the 200 children escaped unhurt. A two-room school building at Coal Bluff was turned over and collapsed. The teacher and ninety pupils were more or less injured.

The force of the explosion destroyed all telephone communication with outside towns, and it was with great difficulty that aid was reached. Terre Haute and Brazil sent physicians and nurses with supplies in carriages and

WHY LIFE WAS SPARED.

Because Santa Anna Was at Time Prisoner of War.

Austin, Oct. 16.—Within the last few weeks a number of letters have been written to the state librarian, asking if the rumor were true that General Sam Houston spared the life of Santa Anna because the latter was a Mason. The rumor had it that General Houston was about to order Santa Anna's execution when the Mexican general gave the distress signal of the Masonic order, whereupon General Houston spared his life. Hearing that ex-Governor James D. Porter of Tennessee had been an intimate friend of Houston's, Librarian Myers wrote to Governor Porter to inquire about the rumor.

A reply was received from Governor Porter Tuesday in which he said he had talked about the rumor personally with General Houston, and that the latter had told him he knew nothing of the story that Santa Anna was a Mason at the time of the capture. He said he regarded Santa Anna as a prisoner of war and felt honor bound not to harm him while he was under his care, and the reputation of Texas was at stake, for she was applying for recognition—even though Fannin and Travis had been murdered, Texas was above savagery.

ANOTHER RAILROAD.

It Is to Run Between Weatherford and Bridgeport, Tex.

Fort Worth, Oct. 16.—A new railroad, north and south between Weatherford and Bridgeport, a distance of thirty-eight miles, is the latest project on foot, and the man who will build it, so it is stated, is Gid R. Turner, the promoter of the Fort Worth, Weatherford and Mineral Wells Interurban. Mr. Turner says the line will be built and that work will begin within sixty or ninety days. When Mr. Turner went north in the interest of the Interurban, he stayed longer than he intended, but he was working on the Bridgeport-Weatherford line, and the company that will take charge of the matter is styled the Chicago, Weatherford and Brazos Valley. The Rock Island is at Bridgeport, near which place there are extensive coal deposits. At Weatherford connection would be made with the Texas and Pacific and with Cleburne-Weatherford branch of the Santa Fe.

Big Pecan Deal.

Lometa, Tex., Oct. 16.—Henry Stalling has closed a deal for 187,000 pounds of pecans to be delivered at this place and to be shipped to Galveston. Some declare that the best pecans in America come from this part of Lampasas county on the Colorado and Sabine rivers.

Congressman Pujol of Louisiana Is at the Alamo City.

San Antonio, Oct. 16.—Congressman A. P. Pujol of Louisiana arrived to look after the interests of Paul Barbe, who is in jail charged with assault to murder Paul Ebers. Pujol is a brother-in-law of Barbe. Ebers has a chance to recover. Ebers was shot five times by Barbe while at the residence of Mrs. Ford, a sister of defendant. Defendant is a resident of Louisiana and was on a visit to his sister when the shooting took place.

BROOKS' CONSTRUCTION.

Holds That Baskin-McGregor Act Repeals All Previous Statutes.

Tyler, Tex., Oct. 16.—In the court of criminal appeals Judge Brooks' opinion in the Steve Vaccarezza case is a lengthy one and covers seven pages of legal cap paper. He contends that the enactment of the Baskin-McGregor law repeals all laws in conflict therewith and so cites in his opinion, and on this and other points the case was remanded. He does not construe that the Baskin-McGregor law meant prohibition over the state for a certain period, but that all saloon men should have begun preparation from new license as soon as the law went into effect.

Cancelled by Request.

Austin, Oct. 16.—Commissioner of Insurance Love announced that the Houston Fire and Marine company of Houston has advised his department of its determination to suspend business pending the result of important litigation. All outstanding risks have been reinsured, effective Sept. 11, 1907, in the Southern of New Orleans and the Guardian of Pittsburg. At company's request the commission has cancelled its permit to do business in Texas.

After Western Union.

Enid, Okla., Oct. 16.—Attorney General Cromwell, upon evidence claimed to have been furnished by the striking telegraphers, has commenced suit in the district court of this county against the Western Union Telegraph company on account of alleged failure to properly deliver messages and claiming messages were sent part way through the mail, and to show cause why its charter in the territory should not be revoked.

Texas Track Mileage.

Austin, Oct. 16.—The railroad commission has issued a statement showing the total track mileage of all railroads in Texas for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907. It is 15,483 miles, against 14,650 for 1906, making an increase of 831 miles for this year. This increase includes 166 miles of new road built, the other increase being in branches, additions to old roads, etc.

SMALL STILL PRESIDENT.

So Declares, and Does Not Care What Is said About Him.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Sylvester J. Small, who arrived here from New York, declares he is still president of the Commercial Telegraphers' union.

Asked if he would make an effort to have himself reinstated at the convention, announced to be held soon in Milwaukee, Mr. Small said: "I shall not ask for reinstatement for the simple reason that I am not suspended. I am still the president of the union, and so far as I know no call for a convention has been issued."

When reminded of the bitter attitude of the strikers toward him, the deposed leader said: "I don't care a rap what they say about me. I am the president, and I know what I am doing."

Applied For Reinstatement.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Nine striking telegraph operators applied for reinstatement to the Western Union Tuesday. Six were taken back.

FITZPATRICK FINED.

By Agreement Penalty Is Placed at Five Thousand Dollars.

Mobile, Oct. 16.—Frank Fitzpatrick of Boston, the last of the individuals recently indicted in connection with lottery cases, was fined $5,000, following a conference between United States Attorney Ambrecht and Attorney Casey of Boston, who represents Mr. Fitzpatrick. Mr. Fitzpatrick is a millionaire resident of Boston and was indicted with a number of others more or less prominent people throughout the country some time ago. Fitzpatrick did not appear before the federal court, his defense being entrusted entirely to Attorney Casey.

EARTHQUAKE RUMBLING.

Felt at and Near Lowell and in Southern New Hampshire.

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 16.—The heavy rumbling of an earthquake was felt in this city and suburban towns at 7:10 o'clock Tuesday night. The shock lasted two or three seconds, and was followed by what appeared to be a sharp explosion. In a few instances chinaware was thrown to the floor, and in many dwellings the dishes rattled. The earthquake alarmed persons in various sections of the city, and many of them ran from their houses. No great damage was done at any point. The shock was also felt at several points in southern New Hampshire.

Many Hogs Received.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Estimated hog receipts Tuesday were 29,000.

TEACHERS' CLANSMAN CONTEST.

The voting contest for the six reserved seats for the performance of "The Clansman," to be given to the lady school teacher receiving the largest number of votes, has opened in a most gratifying manner.

The scholars are already beginning to take a lively interest in the contest. Everybody, young or old, rich or poor, is entitled to one or one thousand votes, the only provision being that the voting shall be done on the voting coupons printed daily in this newspaper. There are several hundred school children and supporters of the public schools in this city.

PRIZE CONTEST—VOTING COUPON

I cast my vote for in the Teachers' Contest for the performance of "The Clansman" on Thursday, October 24 at the Grand Opera House.

every one of whom should cast at least one vote for the teacher of their choice.

The plan of the contest is very simple. The Eagle will afford the opportunity to one teacher and her friends to witness that great play of the South, "The Clansman," at the opera house on Oct. 24. We have accordingly secured six reserved seats for this performance, and will present them with our compliments to the teacher receiving the largest number of votes.

The successful teacher will be the owner of the seats for the evening and may invite any of her friends whom she desires to share them with her.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease. In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made. A perfected, dependable prescription. Without a perfect ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

There is no justice in criticising the railroad commission for the order forbidding its employees to give out to favored newspapers advance information of its plans, thereby giving railroad attorneys time to file injunction proceedings. Misses Board, Garth and McInnis of Bryan, and Miss Critz, who is visiting on the campus, were the fortunate young ladies, while Messrs. Dean, Weber, Werteneaker, Hammer and Dr. Marsteller were the young men present.

Prof. R. O. Allen of Allen Academy, favored the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday night with a brief but forceful address on the subject, "A Life of Service." In the opening words he spoke highly of the good work done by the Association here, and promised it any aid he might be able to render it in any way. He spoke of the necessity of a life of service, and the best way in which to live such a life. Those present found the address a treat and every word he said struck attentive ears. The meeting was closed with a hymn, and prayer by Dr. Powell.

It is estimated that $40,000 a year is received by Cooke county farmers for cream shipped to other towns, and this had a great influence in causing the creamery to be built here.

PRESIDENT CLARIDGE HERE.

Talks About the Atlanta Meeting, 15c Cotton and the Middle Man.

Mr. R. R. Claridge, president of the Texas Division of the Southern Cotton Association, is here in the interest of the S. C. A. Mr. Claridge thinks that ultimate good will come of the Atlanta meeting, but that the new system of cotton marketing which is coming about will come by evolution rather than by revolution, which he seems to think is the best way.

As to putting the middleman out of business, Mr. Claridge says the gambler in cotton futures is about out, as nobody pays much attention to his future market. As to the spot dealers he added: "They seem a necessary adjunct of the business, and will no doubt continue so for a long time to come. At any rate, if the grower gets his price he does not care who pays it. Business conditions, demand for cotton, short crop, cost of growing, price of cotton goods, in fact everything indicates 15 cents as the price this year, and in my opinion all who are able to hold will get it. However, it is not good business for a farmer to hold cotton at the expense of the merchant whom he owes, if the latter needs and wants his money. Good business would indicate that he should go to the bank for money with which to pay the merchant, holding at his own expense. If he can't get money at the bank he should sell enough cotton at the ruling price to relieve his necessities. Such a course, beside being the business thing to do, will make friends of the merchant and the banker, and he will need them both before this fight is over, because there is the most powerful line-up against him that the Southern cotton trade has ever witnessed, the struggle being to the death—certainly so far as the bear gambler is concerned, because if he loses this fight he is a goner."

Mr. Claridge's suggestion regarding the marketing, if necessary, of a portion of the crop to meet obligations, is in line with the highly commendable recommendation adopted by the Brazos County Farmers' Union at its recent meeting at Reliance.

DEATH OF MR. R. P. HOOD.

Passed Away Suddenly at His Home in this City on Tuesday Afternoon.

Mr. B. P. Hood died suddenly at his home in the southern part of the city Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. He was apparently enjoying his usual good health and the end came without warning. A short time before he passed away he was walking about the premises with a neighbor, and remarked that he believed he was taking the dengue.

Mr. Hood was a native of Alabama, 58 years old, and had lived in Texas 37 years. He moved with his family from Thornton to this city three years ago, and was a good man and held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was a member of the Baptist church. His wife and four children survive him. The latter are L. H. Hood, of Houston; R. M. Hood, of Denison; Mrs. J. M. O'Brien, of San Antonio and Mrs. R. R. Ellis, of this city.

The remains were taken to Thornton yesterday afternoon for burial, accompanied by members of the family and a few friends.

ROGUES' GALLERY GONE.

Some One Steals Collection of Pictures at San Antonio.

San Antonio, Oct. 16.—Constable Stephens' office was burglarized and his rogues' collection of pictures and the book containing the names of crooks stolen. Mr. Stephens had a hobby for collecting the pictures of crooks. He is a photographer himself, and never fails to take a snapshot at any man he arrests. In addition to these, had pictures of nearly all the famous crooks of the country. In a book he kept a description of the men. Nothing else was disturbed. It is thought the burglary was committed by a man who was angry that his picture had been added to the collection.

TIRED OF LIVING.

Man Swallows Carbolic Acid and Crosses River of Death.

Brenham, Tex., Oct. 16.—Lee Huny-cut aged about thirty-five years, and foreman of the Santa Fe railroad gang at work on the dump here, was found dead in his room at the Fletcher hotel. He had swallowed the contents of a small bottle of carbolic acid. Huny-cut left a note saying he was tired of living, and asked that no effort be made to locate his relatives, saying that they would read of his death in the newspapers, and that would be sufficient. Huny-cut was a quiet, well respected man, and had a bank account.

Miss Beulah Wooldridge returned to Willis yesterday accompanied by Mrs. M. Register of Kurten. Miss Agnes Register accompanied them to this city.

Rev. J. J. Tatum, pastor of the Free Baptist church, returned yesterday morning from attendance upon the session of the General Conference of the Free Baptist church held at Cleveland, Ohio. Rev. Tatum reports the meeting largely attended and most profitable in many ways. He states that the church in this section of the country has not heretofore been fully identified with the general organization, but that this was accomplished at the Cleveland meeting, and the reports hereafter will embrace the work in this part of the country more fully. Rev. Tatum also visited St. Louis and points in Illinois, and had a pleasant visit among old friends.

COUNTESS CHARMED.

Regretted She Could Not Stay Longer at New York.

New York, Oct. 16.—Countess of Warwick, who has been on a visit here for three weeks, has sailed for home. She declared that New York City was the most wonderful city she had seen and regretted that she could not spend more time here.

"I saw everything of importance," she said—your skyscrapers, which are

WHO GOT BREAKFAST.

This and Firemaking Proposition Has Disrupted a Family.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 16.—A question of who was to make the fire and cook the breakfast disrupted the family of Abe Eury of Lost Creek. He and his wife disagreed on this point and Abe undertook to teach the lady her wifely duty with his fists. Who eventually did cook the breakfast, or whether or not there was a breakfast, did not appear in the evidence when Mrs. Abe dragged her husband into court with an affidavit of assault and battery. Abe said that she said she would not cook his breakfast, but would wait until he had gone to work and then cook her own. Mrs. Abe said that he refused to make the fire and she refused to cook the breakfast unless he did.

Justice Church, before whom the case was tried, did not wish to establish a precedent by handing down a decision on the domestic breakfast law, and confined himself to noting that Mrs. Abe had without doubt been assaulted and battered. The $1 and costs will probably mean that there will be considerable scuffling in the Eury family for any old breakfast.

THE MAGIC OF MUSIC

Power of the Melody of the Voice Over Man and Beast.

SINGERS WHO SAVED LIVES.

The Way Lablache, the Basso, Conquered a Bear and a Burglar—Grisi Control of a Madman With a Razor. A Musical Wife's Presence of Mind.

That music really has charms to soothe the savage beast is proved by the many times that the power of song has been the means of saving life. On one occasion when Luigi Lablache, the great opera basso, was aimlessly strolling through a French fair he was surprised by a sudden stampede of the sightseers, who rushed by him in a great panic, crying that one of the great bears had escaped from the menagerie. So surprised that he scarcely realized his danger, the singer stood his ground and almost immediately found himself face to face with the maddened beast, which halted for a moment before making its final rush. In that moment Lablache began to sing one of his favorite airs in a voice so deep and terrifying that the bear slunk away, thoroughly cowed.

It was this same singer who, when confined to his bed by a broken leg, was surprised by his landlady, who burst into his room, crying that a robber was in the house and was about to kill her husband unless he revealed the hiding place of their money and plate. Lablache, unable because of his injury to give other assistance, began to sing an aria in such thunderous tones as to terrify the robber, who fled.

Mme. Giulia Grisi was once traveling from the south of France to Paris in company with several companions of her own sex, when their privacy was intruded upon by a man who entered their apartment at a wayside station. Before long he began to act so oddly as to make the women apprehensive and at last terrified them by drawing a razor, which he began to flourish, at the same time demanding that he be permitted to sever their heads. The women realized that they had a madman in the carriage with them and also that they were without protection until the next stop of the train. In consequence they became hysterical—all save Grisi, who with great coolness suddenly began to sing in a soft voice that gradually assumed volume as she gained the attention of the man, whose threatening attitude gave way to rapt attention as the song advanced. Song after song did Grisi sing, and not another movement did the man make until the next station was reached, when the alarm was given and he was taken into custody. It transpired afterward that he had escaped from a lunatic asylum.

Jennie Lind once saved not only her own, but hundreds of other lives by her gift of song. A fire broke out back of the stage in a small theater in her native land where she was singing. The audience became alarmed, and there might have been a panic had not Jennie Lind stepped coolly out upon the stage and begun singing a favorite folk song. Reassured and entranced, the audience seated themselves, and the fire was soon extinguished.

Another well known opera star while traveling with some friends in Mexico was surprised by a company of half breed bandits, at whose approach the escort fled, leaving their charges to the mercy of the robbers. The attitude of the latter on finding that their captives had little money and valuables was menacing in the extreme, and the travelers all expected to be murdered that night. When the robbers were eating their supper the star began to sing, and his captors were so delighted that they demanded more. For a time he gratified them, but at last suggested that he should sing for the freedom of himself and his friends. To this the bandits, cheered by wine and song, agreed, and after having sung for an hour he and his companion were free.

Kneissel, the notorious Bavarian brigand, once planned to rob a house in the neighborhood of Munich and, if necessary to secure the money and plate he knew was in the house, murder the inmates, a young married woman and her two female servants. His approach was heard by the wife, who, instead of losing her head, sat down to her piano and began to sing. The brigand listened for awhile and was on the point of forcing an entrance into the room when the song ceased and a man's voice struck up a rollicking air, to be followed in a few moments by a third man's voice singing a familiar chorus. Kneissel paused. The husband evidently had returned unexpectedly and had brought with him a friend. He was not prepared to attack the house against two men, so he beat a hasty retreat, little thinking that the voice he had heard proceeded from the lips of the young wife, a fine singer, who was an adept at mimicry.

Some years ago a released convict went to the house of the Indiana judge who had sentenced him to prison with the intention of shooting him. As he crept nearer to the window beside which the judge was sitting and raised his revolver to fire the sweet voice of the judge's wife floated out on the summer air from the bedroom, where she was singing her baby to sleep, all unconscious of her husband's peril. The lullaby she sang was one that the convict's mother used to croon to him, and, throwing aside his revolver, he walked boldly into the house and confessed to the judge his intention. The judge befriended him, and he is today one of the most influential and respected citizens of a town in the far west.

DUE TO DRUNKEN MAN.

Intoxicated Individual Cause of Row in Restaurant.

PARTY PUT UNDER ARREST

Three Companions Plan to Effect His Rescue, Riot Results, Crowd and the Police Clash, Many Clubbed and a Number of Arrests Made.

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—As a result of an attack on a Japanese laundry, the proprietor and one of his employees are in the emergency hospital, many whites are nursing bruises caused by the clubs of the police and the exterior of the laundry is a wreck.

The trouble was occasioned by Joseph King, an intoxicated logger, who crashed into the window of the laundry at 422 Fell street. The proprietor rushed out and was dragged into a rear room, where he was placed in charge of a young Japanese, who stood guard armed with a section of gas pipe, while the other Japanese hurriedly summoned the police to arrest King. Three intoxicated companions of King witnessed the incident and they planned to rescue their friend. Other whites were called in and there followed a combined attack on the laundry.

The street was soon filled by a large crowd and a dozen Japanese on the inside sought to repel the invaders.

Policeman Thomas Collier was soon on the scene and attacked the crowd singlehanded. Another officer soon arrived in an automobile, and the riot call, which was sounded, brought strong reinforcements. The police charged the crowd with clubs and many were hurt.

MITCHELL OPERATED ON.

Patient Rests Easy Although His Condition Is Quite Serious.

La Salle, Ill., Oct. 15.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America was operated on Monday for appendicitis. He was under the influence of an anesthetic for thirty-five minutes. The operation appears to be successful. The patient rallied after a removal of the vermiform appendix and is resting easily, although his condition is still serious.

Physicians say recovery will be slightly delayed on account of the poor condition of the system. Mr. Mitchell underwent hernia operations six months ago and he never fully recovered from the effects. A conference was held with Vice-President Lewis and Secretary Wilson on Sunday to arrange for the work of the union during the operation and succeeding illness.

HORACE HOOD HONORED.

One of Alabama's Oldest Editors Is Appointed Sheriff.

Montgomery, Oct. 15.—Horace Hood, editor and part owner of The Montgomery Journal and one of the oldest editors of the Alabama press, has been appointed sheriff of Montgomery county, one of the best paying places in the state. Mr. Hood has edited newspapers in Montgomery for many years and is well known in every section of the south. He is one of the Bryan leaders of the south.

Having Trouble With Slide.

Panama, Oct. 15.—American engineers are having trouble with Cucharacha slide, at the south end of Culebra cut. This point of land, always a source of trouble to the French when they tried to dig the canal, is again in motion and will prove a hindrance all during the wet season. About 500,000 yards of dirt are in motion. All this dirt must ultimately be removed, but the engineers would rather get it slowly than have it pushed on them.

Two Fatally Crushed.

Pittsburg, Oct. 16.—By a fall of slate in a coal mine at Port View, near here, a man and girl were crushed to death and the girl's mother probably fatally hurt.

SOUTH NOT HOSTILE.

Finley Tells of Great Increase of Industries.

New York, Oct. 15.—That the south is not hostile to railroads is the statement appearing in President Finley's report to the stockholders of the Southern Railway company, a portion of the report of which for the year ending June 30 last, has just been made public. In fact, President Finley says there is a growing feeling among shippers and travelers in that part of the country in favor of a reasonable treatment of railroad enterprises. The statement then certifies to the industrial progress of the south, that no fewer than 836 plants of various sorts were installed among the Southern railway's lines and that the capacity of many old plants was being enlarged.

Of the disputed rates put in force in the south pending the determination of the case involved by the United States supreme court Mr. Finley says: "The board has considered it essential not only in the interest of owners of property, but in the interest of the public, whose interest is that the railroads shall not be deprived of the means of providing adequate facilities for the commerce of the country that the issue raised by the action of these states whether investments in railroad properties are entitled to the same measure of protection as other property, and whether they can be deprived by any form of successful action for the protection of the constitution shall be finally settled with the least possible delay."

NO ARCHBISHOP.

Bishop and Clergy Favor Measure, but Laity Vote it Down.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 15.—The principal event that occurred Monday in the Episcopal convention was the defeat of the so-called archbishop bill.

The house of bishops passed the measure and the clergy were overwhelmingly in favor of it. The laity, however, defeated the measure by a non-concurrence.

At a joint meeting of the bishops and the deputies, the bishops of Mississippi and the bishop of Georgia spoke on the negro question, both contending that the work among the negroes in the southern states had advanced rapidly within the last ten years, and both making earnest pleas that the church continue the work. Rt. Rev. Samuel Ferguson, Bishop of Cape Palmas, the only negro sitting in other house of the convention, also spoke and made an excellent impression, especially among the delegates from the southern states.

Rev. Dr. Wilkins of Los Angeles had passed a resolution forming a commission of ten bishops, fifteen clergy men and twenty laymen to raise a fund of $5,000,000 for the relief of disabled clergy.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and salivary complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend
